Comments:

Our whole experience with Tim Altbau Productions was fantastic. We received excellent communication up front from Tim Altbau who worked with us on lighting and other special set up needs. Tim also listened and understood both the theme and character we were trying to achieve for our event and came through with great suggestions and follow-through. He provided song lists but also allowed us to supplement and add anything that wasn't already included. We also had the opportunity to talk with DJ Effren prior to our event to ensure that the communication and understanding carried through to the person who would be at the event. Effren exceeded our expectations in a number of ways and kept the party going all night with never a moment of downtime. Not only was he an excellent DJ and Emcee for our event, but he was my "right hand man" in accomplishing those items we had put on our agenda and working to keep things flowing in a seamless manner. The equipment and the sound quality were all high end in both appearance and performance. It is without hesitation that I recommend this firm and DJ Effren. The success of the event really depends on who is in the seat behind the microphone, making music selections and working with the client but also keeping track of the audience and sensing what is needed and when. This group does an amazing job! They are highly professional but also enthusiastic and fun! I can't imagine an event they couldn't manage well!
